8/7 From Wayne Moore: "Dear Harvey" is an important new play with music for which I'm proud to be musical director. We open at the Lee Strasberg Theater in September. Tonight I'm producing a benefit for the show at The Gardenia in Hollywood. Part of the proceeds will go to the Gay and Lesbian Teen Center in West Hollywood, our ongoing charity. Featured performers: Brenda Moore, Bryan Miller, Gilmore Rizzo, Tawney Dolley, Charlene Modeste, Ginny McMath, Dan Domenech, Peter Mac as Judy Garland and the wonderful Ray Jessel. It's going to be a great show! $25 cover, 2 drink minimum. The Gardenia, 7066 Santa Monica Blvd. (just East of La Brea) Show time is 9:00pm.(323) 467-7444

8/8 Andrea Marcovicci: Blue Champagne: The History of the Torch Song at The Celebration Cabaret, 5820 Oberlin Dr. #108, San Diego, 5:30pm (619) 920-1315
thecelebrationcenter.org online for tickets.

Your choice of General Admission, Seating in the Inner Circle, or a Special Package which includes show, hors d'oeuvres and a Blue Champagne cocktail.

Blue Champagne: The History of the Torch Song not only revels in the heartbreak inherent in this most vulnerable genre of music, but the show is carefully balanced with zany numbers in the quest for a little comic relief from unrequited love songs, as well as wonderful stories of the earliest ladies of torch - Helen Morgan, Ruth Etting, and Libby Holman, among others. Andrea adds a delicious sense of fun to the proceedings with backstage stories of intrigue and inspiration. Don't miss this tale of longing, losing, and gunplay! Highlights: Someone to Watch Over Me, Love Me or Leave Me, Smoke Gets in Your Eyes, Body and Soul, Just Like a Man, and Shakin' the Blues Away.

8/9 Diane Hubka, vocalist/ guitar "Hubka makes her way to into a select group of jazz vocalists/instrumentalists, where she rightly assumes a place of honor." - C.
